ADVICE TO ENGLAND

Another Communication on the Behring Sea Matter.

MR. BLAINE'S LAST LETTER.

It is Addressed to Sir Julian Pauncefote in Reply to the Questions Suggested for the Arbitration of the Difference Between England and the United States.

WASHINGTON, May 8. — Secretary Blaine yesterday evening made public his latest communication on Behring sea matters. It is addressed to Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British minister, and reads as follows:

Sir—The modifications which Lord Salisbury suggests in the questions for arbitration do not wholly meet the views of the president; but the president changes the text of the third and fifth in such a manner, it is hoped, as will result in an agreement between the two governments. While Lord Salisbury suggests a different mode of procedure from that embodied in the sixth question, the president does not understand him actually to object to the question, and he therefore assumes that it is agreed to.

The six questions, as now proposed by the president, are as follows:

First—What exclusive jurisdiction in the sea now known as the Behring sea, and what exclusive rights in the seal fisheries therein did Russia assert and exercise prior and up to the time of the concession of Alaska to the United States?

Second—How far were these claims of jurisdiction, as to the seal fisheries, recognized and conceded by Great Britain?

Third—Was the body of water now known as the Behring sea included in the phrase "Pacific ocean" as used in the treaty of 1825 between Great Britain and Russia; and what rights, if any, in the Behring sea were held and exclusively exercised by Russia after said treaty?

Fourth—Did not all rights of Russia as to jurisdiction and as to the seal fisheries in Behring sea, east of the water boundary described in the treaty between the United States and Russia of March 30, 1867, pass unimpaired to the United States under that treaty?

Fifth—Has the United States any right, and if so, what right of protection or property in the fur seals frequenting the islands of the United States in Behring sea, when such seals are found outside the ordinary three mile limit?

Sixth—If the determination of the foregoing questions shall leave the subject in such position that the concurrence of Great Britain is necessary in prescribing regulations for the killing of the fur seal in any part of the waters of Behring sea, then it shall be further determined: First, how far, if at all, outside the ordinary territorial limits it is necessary that the United States should exercise an exclusive jurisdiction, in order to protect the seal for the time living upon the islands of the United States and feeding therefrom? Second, whether a closed season, during which the killing of seals in the waters of Behring sea outside the ordinary territorial limits shall be prohibited, is necessary to save the seal fishing industry, so valuable and important to mankind, from deterioration or destruction? And, if so, third, what months or parts of months should be included in such season, and over what waters it should extend?

The president does not object to the additional question respecting alleged damages to English ships, proposed by Lord Salisbury, if one condition can be added, namely: That after the issues of the arbitration are joined, if the United States shall prevail, all the seals taken by Canadian vessels during the period shall be paid for at the ordinary price for which skins are sold. This seems to the president to be the complement of Lord Salisbury's proposition, and he doubts not that it will secure his lordship's assent.

In the first paragraph of Lord Salisbury's dispatch of Feb. 31 he makes the following declaration: "It is now quite clear that the advisers of the president do not claim Behring sea as a mare clausum and indeed, that they repudiate that contention in express terms."

Lord Salisbury's expression is put in such form as to imply (whether he so intended I know not) that the United States had hitherto been resting its contention upon the fact that the Behring sea was a mare clausum. If that was his intention it would have been well for his lordship to specify wherein the United States ever made the assertion. The emphatic denial in my dispatch of Dec. 17 last was intended to put an end to the iteration of the charge and to eliminate it from the current discussion.

Lord Salisbury complains that I did not deal with certain protests, written by Lord Londonderry and the Duke of Wellington in 1822, which he had before quoted. If he will recur to the twenty-sixth and twenty-seventh pages of my dispatch of Dec. 17, he will observe that I specially dealt with these; that I maintained and, I think, proved far from the text that there was not a single word in these protests referring to the Behring sea, but that they referred in the language of the Duke of Wellington of the 17th of October, 1822, only to the lands "extending along the shores of the Pacific ocean from latitude 49 degrees to latitude 60 degrees north."

In the first paragraph of Lord Londonderry's protest of Jan. 18, 1822, addressed to Count Lieven of Russia, he alluded to the matters in dispute as "especially connected with the territorial rights of the Russian crown on the northwest coast of America bordering on the Pacific ocean, and the commerce and navigation of his imperial majesty's subjects in the seas adjacent thereto."

From these and other pertinent facts, it is evident that the protests of Lord Londonderry and the Duke of Wellington had nothing whatever to do with the points now in issue between the American and British governments concerning the waters of the Behring sea. They both referred in different but substantially identical phrases to the territory south of the Alaskan peninsula bordering on the Pacific and geographically shut out from the Behring sea. I regret that my arguments on a point which Lord Salisbury considers of great importance should have escaped his lordship's notice.

In Lord Salisbury's judgment the contention of the United States now rests wholly upon the ukase of 1821 by the Emperor Alexander I of Russia. The United States has at no time rested its argument solely on the ground mentioned and this government regrets that Lord Salisbury should have so misapprehended the American position as to limit its basis of right in Behring sea to the ukase of 1821. The United States has among other grounds, insisted without recurring to any of its inherited and superior rights in Alaska, that this government has full authority four going beyond the three mile line in case of proved necessity as Great Britain possesses.

Two or three instances of the power which Great Britain exercises beyond the three mile line have already been quoted, but have failed thus far to secure comment or explanation from Lord Salisbury. Another case has been added which, perhaps, is still more to the point. In 1889—only two years ago—the British parliament enacted a law, the effect of which is clearly shown by a map inclosed herewith. Far outside the three mile line the parliament of Great Britain has attempted to control a body of water situated beyond the northeastern section of Scotland, 2,700 square miles in extent, and to direct that certain methods of fishing shall not be used within that great body of water under a prescribed penalty. It will be observed that the inhibition is not alone against British subjects, but against "any person." I here quote the pertinent section of the parliamentary act in question:

"First—The fishing board may by law or by-laws direct that the methods of fishing known as beam trawling and other trawling shall not be used within a line drawn from Duncansby Head, in Caithness, to Rattray point, in Aberdeenshire in any area or areas to be defined in such by-law, and may from time to time make, alter, and revoke by-laws for the purpose of this section, but no such by-law shall be of any validity until it has been confirmed by the secretary for Scotland."

"Second—Any person who uses any such method of fishing in contravention of any such by-law shall be liable, on conviction, under the summary jurisdiction (Scotland) acts, to a fine not exceeding £5 for the first offence, and not exceeding £20 for the second or any subsequent offence, and every net set, or attempted to be set, in contravention of any such by-law may be seized and destroyed or otherwise disposed of as in the sixth section of this act mentioned."

If Great Britain may thus control an area of 2,700 square miles of ocean on the coast of Scotland, why may not the United States prescribe a space under the Bribyloff Islands, in which similar prohibitions may be enforced? The following would be the needed legislation for such a purpose by congress, and it is but a paraphrase of the act of parliament:

"First—The fur seal board may, by law or by-laws, direct that the methods of sealing known as spearing or harpooning, or with fire-arms, shall not be used within a line drawn from the shores of the Bribyloff Islands, sixty miles in the Behring sea, and said board may, from time to time, make, alter and revoke by-laws for the purpose of this action; but no such by-law shall be of any validity until it has been confirmed by the secretary of the treasury."

"Second—Any person who uses any such methods of sealing in contravention of such by-laws shall be liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding $100 for the first offence and not exceeding $500 for the second or any subsequent offence, and every spear, harpoon, or firearm attempted to be used in contravention of any such by-law, may be seized and destroyed or otherwise disposed of as said fur seal board may direct."

It must not escape observation that the area of water outside the three-mile line on the coast of Scotland whose control is assumed by Great Britain, is as large as would be found inside a line drawn from Cape Cod to Portland harbor, on the New England coast.

Lord Salisbury reasserts his contention that the words "Pacific ocean" at the time of the treaty between Russia and Great Britain did include Behring sea. Undoubtedly the Pacific ocean includes Behring sea in the same sense that the Atlantic ocean includes the Gulf of Mexico, and yet it would be regarded as a very inaccurate statement to say that the Mississippi river flows into the Atlantic ocean. I think Lord Salisbury fails to recognize the common distinction between the "Atlantic ocean" and "the waters of the Atlantic." While the Mexican gulf is not a part of the Atlantic, it would, I sure am comfort with general usage to say, that it belongs to the waters of the Atlantic, and while Behring sea is not technically a part of the Pacific ocean, it undoubtedly belongs to the waters of the Pacific.

The English channel would not ordinarily be understood as included in the term "Atlantic ocean." One would not say that Dover or Calais is not the coast of the Atlantic, and yet clearly the English channel belongs to the waters of the Atlantic. In point of fact, therefore, according to the usage of the world, there is no dispute of any consequence between the two governments on the geographical point under consideration. The historical point is the one of issue. The explanatory note from Russia, filed in the state department of this country, specially referred to in Mr. John Quincy Adams' diary and quoted in my note of Dec. 17, 1890 plainly draws a distinction between the Pacific ocean on the one hand and the "sea of OKhotsk, the sea of Kamiscutka and the icy sea" on the other; and so long as Russia drew that distinction it must apply to, and must absolutely decide, all the contentions between the two countries as far as the waters of the Behring sea are concerned.

To discuss this point further, would, in the opinion of the president, contribute nothing of value to the general contention. In the opinion of the president Lord Salisbury is wholly and strangely in error in making the following statement: "Nor do they (the advisers of the president) rely, as a justification for the seizure of British ships in the open sea, upon the contention that the interests of the seal fisheries give to the United States government any right for that purpose, which according to international law, it would not otherwise possess."

The government of the United States has steadily held just the reverse of the position which Lord Salisbury has inquired to it. It owns that the ownership of the islands upon which the seals breed, that the habit of the seals in regularly resorting thither and rearing their young thereon, that their going out from the island in search of food and regularly returning therto, and all the facts and incidents of their relation to the islands, give to the United States a property interest therein; that this property interest was claimed and exercised by Russia during the whole period of its sovereignty over land and waters of Alaska; that England recognized this property interest so far as recognition is implied by abstaining from all interference with it during the whole period of Russia's ownership of Alaska and during the first nineteen years of the sovereignty of the United States. It is yet to be determined whether the lawless intrusion of Canadian vessels in 1886 and subsequent years, has changed the law and equity of the case theretofore prevailing.

I have the honor to be, with the highest consideration, sir, your most obedient servant,
JAMES G. BLAINE.

A JAPANESE MAFIA.

Members of Parliament Assaulted and Intimidated.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—Dispatches from Tokio, Japan, say that the government has decided to institute criminal proceedings against over 200 young ruffians charged with assault upon and intimidation of the members of parliament. These youths, who are known as the Soshi, have for years been a disgrace to Japanese political life. They are educated loafers in different parts of the country who pretend to have a special mission to secure purity or independence, or some other principle in public life. To this end they hold excited meetings, deliver violent harangues, write threatening letters to prominent men, seek interviews with them, attack their houses, break up meetings of those holding different opinions from themselves, go about armed, and frequently threaten their victims with assassination.

Formerly only statesmen and high officials were the object of their wrath, but of late they have turned their attention to members of the lower house. Some of them are in the employ of members of the house for the purpose of intimidating their opponents, and are thus enabled to get inside the approaches of the parliamentary chamber. A leading representative, while recently entering the dining-room of the house, was attacked by a gang of Soshi, but managed to arrest the ringleader. Another member rose in the house with his head bandaged, and apologized for appearing in that guise, but said that his head had been broken by Soshi, with whom, however, he had held amicable relations at an earlier period. Numerous instances have occurred of members being waylaid and severely assaulted or invited from meetings in their own houses to see a stranger at the door, only to find themselves kidnapped by the ruffians.

Only a few weeks ago the residence of the president of the lower house was beset and every window broken from the basement to the roof. Recently the government put in force a law and expelled sixty-five of the Soshi in a single night, sending them to Yokohama and the region round about, the act being approved by parliament by a vote of 193 to 23. Since then the expelled youths have been deluging the members of parliament with threatening letters, and the government has consequently decided to take criminal proceedings against them under the law which provides that many persons residing within an area of one hundred miles of any imperial palace, whose presence may be injurious to peace and order may be tried, and upon conviction, put to death. The probabilities are that some of the Soshi will lose their heads.

Meeting of Methodist Bishops.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., May 8.—The Methodist bishops met yesterday, with a full attendance, save Bishops Foster, of Boston, and Hurst, of Washington, D. C. The absentees, excepting the two missionary bishops, are expected to arrive to-day. The sessions are held in the ladies' hall of DePauw university. The dates and assignments for conference work will not be made public till the coming week.

Why Miss Couzins Was Dismissed.

CHICAGO, May 8.—Edwin Walker, attorney for the board of control, and all the parties named in Phoebe Couzins' suit to retain her position as secretary of the board of lady managers, has filed an answer to the Couzins bill. Mr. Walker goes over the entire case and says that Miss Couzins was dismissed because she "grossly distorted" the minutes of the November session.

Russian Finances.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 8.—The Novoe Vremya, in an article on the financial situation brought about by the withdrawal of the offer of the Rothschild syndicate to place the new Russian loan, urges the Russian government to withdraw the majority of its deposits held in private banks outside of the Russian empire.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

The Presidential Party En Route to Washington.

TRAVELING THROUGH OREGON.

The Entire Party View the Beautiful Scenery Along the Valley of the Columbia River—Passing Through a Sand Storm—Umatilla Indians Take Part in the Reception at Arlington.

THE DALLES, Ore., May 8.—The presidential party spent a most enjoyable morning along the Columbia river from Portland to The Dalles. The train arrived at Portland at 3 a. m., and was side-tracked until 7:15, when it started east. The beautiful scenery along the valley of the Columbia river kept the president and ladies on the rear platform of the observation car. At Multnomah falls the train stopped a few minutes and another halt was made at the Cascades, where the government engineering force fired a salute and the president made a brief speech.

Ex-Governor Moody, of Oregon, who joined the party at Portland, pointed out to the president places of historic and scientific interest along the route, and answered many questions asked by the latter concerning the salmon fishing industry, and a project for making Middle river navigable. The president made a few remarks to the local military and about one hundred people at Hood river station, and he spoke again at this place where the train arrived at 1:15 for a fifteen minutes stop. The brass band, school children and several hundred people gave the party a hearty welcome.

Passing Through a Sand Storm.

BLAOKRIS, Ore., May 8.—The presidential party experienced the disagreeable effects of a mild sand storm in Cilco, Ore., a small salmon canning station on the Columbia river. A high wind scattered the sand in every direction and made the distinguished visitors very uncomfortable. During a stop of twenty minutes, the party visited a canning and packing factory and watched the operations of catching salmon. The wigwams of the Indian fishermen were also visited.

AT PENDLETON, OREGON.

Through the Sand Wastes of the Columbia and Umatilla River Valleys.

PENDLETON, Ore., May 8.—The presidential party arrived at Pendleton at 5 o'clock in the afternoon after a journey of several hours through the sand wastes of the Columbia and Umatilla river valleys. At several small stations, where short stops were made, the president held receptions. At Arlington, the local military company paraded and a large number of persons shook the president's hand. The train remained here half an hour. More than one hundred Indian bucks and squaws from the Umatilla reservation, mounted on horses and dressed in their gayest blankets, participated in the reception. The school children of the town and the local military company were also on hand.

A decorated platform had been built beside the track and as the president took his place on this, a cheer went up from thousands of throats. Mayor Raley made an address of welcome and the president responded happily, expressing his surprise that so large a crowd had gathered to welcome him. Mr. Wanamaker also made an address and Mrs. Harrison and the ladies of the party were introduced. Chief Yati Lina Yawitz, of the Umatillas, was introduced and made a speech complaining that the white men had broken their pledge of peace and had taken land from his people. Other chiefs also spoke and the president promised to look into the matter on his return to Washington.

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.

Bureau of Statistics Issues a Report of the Last Nine Months' Transactions.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The bureau of statistics of the treasury department has issued a statement of exports and imports for the nine months ended March 31 last, which shows the exports of merchandise to be $697,917,229; imports, $618,166,840; excess of exports over imports, $79,750,389.

The exports of gold and silver coin and bullion for the same period foot up $44,027,500, and the imports $32,532,637; excess of exports over imports, $11,494,863. Deducting this sum from the excess of exports of merchandise leaves the balance of trade in favor of the States for the nine months at $67,255,516.

Another French-Eversol War Feared.

WINCHESTER, Ky., May 7.—Trouble is feared between the French and Eversol factions, whose members are here in the capacity of witnesses in murder trials, the result of feuds between those factions. A man named Whitaker, one of the Eversol gang, was severely cut by the leader of the French faction, B. F. French. The latter charges Whitaker with attempting his life, and declares that he only acted in self-defense.

Insane Policeman Shoots His Daughter.

Big Revenue Business.

These are busy days with Deputy Collector J. G. Wadsworth. He issued over $5,000 worth of stamps yesterday, which makes the receipts at this place over $12,000 so far this month. And this is only a part of the business he has to attend to.

The business of the office has more than trebled in the past few years, and it taxes one man too heavily to transact it properly. The Deputy should be allowed a clerk.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

BABY IS SICK—The woeful expression of a Des Moines teamster's countenance showed his deep anxiety was not entirely without cause, when he enquired of a druggist of the same city, what was best to give a baby for a cold? It was not necessary for him to say more, his countenance showed that the pet of the family if not the idol of his life, was in distress. "We give our baby Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," was the druggist's answer. "I don't like to give the baby such strong medicine," said the teamster. "You know John Oleson, of the Watters-Talbot Printing Co., don't you?" inquired the druggist. "His baby, when eighteen months old, got hold of a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and drank the whole of it. Of course it made the baby vomit very freely, but did not injure it in the least, and what is more, it cured the baby's cold. The teamster readily knew the value of the Remedy, having used it himself, and was now satisfied that there was no danger in giving it to a baby. For sale by Power & Reynolds.

A BIG CATCH.

Walter A. Mulligan Behind the Bars for a Burglary at West Union.

The Stolen Property Recovered in the Express and Railway Offices Here.

Conner & Boyle's store at West Union, O., was entered by burglars night before last and robbed of several hundred dollars' worth of goods.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Marshal Heflin received a telegram from Manchester asking him to arrest a man giving the name of Mulligan. The telegram contained a good description of Mulligan and stated that he was wanted for the burglary at West Union.

After supper before the Deputy Marshals were sent out on their beats for the night Captain Heflin read the telegram to them and requested them to be on the watch for the fellow.

Shortly afterwards—about 8 o'clock—Deputies Stockdale and Mangan were passing along Second street, when a man answering the description of Mulligan was noticed in the crowd near Market where the trolley wire of the electric railway was being repaired. When the officers approached the fellow, he started to run, but the Deputies were close after him and there was a lively chase soon in progress down Second. A shot in the air from Mr. Stockdale's pistol didn't check Mulligan in his flight, but Deputy Sheriff Chan. Jefferson happened to be standing at Robinson's cigar store and seized the fellow as he came along. That settled it with Mulligan, and he is now in custody.

Captain Heflin was at the council meeting, but he was attracted by the shot, and was soon on the scene.

When Mulligan was searched a big 38-calibre pistol was found in his hip pocket, and among the other articles was a valise key.

"Where's your valise?" inquired Mr. Heflin.

"I haven't any," was Mulligan's answer.

Mr. Heflin walked right down to the express office and there found a large valise. It had been checked to "G. A. Mulligan, Middlesborough, Ky." Captain Heflin also found a box at the K. C. depot directed to the same party.

The valise was full of jewelry, silk handkerchiefs, ladies' shoes, hosiery, &c. One dynamite cartridge and several feet of fuse were also found in it.

The box was packed with ready-made clothing, coats, pants, shirts, &c. A violin, three quarts of whisky, six ten-inch dynamite cartridges and fifteen feet of fuse were also found in it.

Altogether the valise and box contained several hundred dollars' worth of goods.

Mulligan is about thirty years old, and was dressed very neatly. He was raised near Sardis, this county, and is said to be a cousin of the Mulligan who escaped from the jail here a few years ago while awaiting trial for attempted rape.

He (the one now in custody) lived for awhile at Peeples, Adams County, but left there six months ago and went to Middlesborough. He and another party were seen in the vicinity of West Union the evening before the robbery.

They were suspected of the job, but no trace of them was obtained until late yesterday afternoon, when it was learned they boarded the Silver Wave in the forenoon at Wrightsville and came to this city. The party who was with Mulligan has not been arrested. He made himself scarce as soon as his companion was caught. He claimed to be Mulligan's brother.

The accused was taken before Mayor Pearce this morning. Messrs. Conner & Boyles were present and identified the goods as their property.

Mulligan consented to betaken to Ohio to answer the charge, without waiting for a requisition, and Captain Heflin left with him this afternoon for West Union.

WHITE HOUSE COOK BOOK.

Ladies, Read and Learn How You Can Secure a Copy of This Fine Work.

The "White House Cook Book" is the most complete, the most practical, the most convenient and the best book of the kind published. Elegantly illustrated with numerous engravings on steel and wood, including a magnificent steel engraving of the present lady of the White House, and accurate portraits of the wives of all our Presidents. Comprising 521 large quarto pages and over sixteen hundred choice household recipes, it is just the book every family should possess. Each department has received great care and attention in preparation, and can be thoroughly relied upon. Many recipes have been obtained at considerable trouble and expense, and are worth more than the price of the book. The confectionery department will be found very extensive, and superior to many works treating this subject exclusively, besides being especially adapted to home uses. The subjects of toasts, sandwiches, salads and pickles embrace more articles than can be found in any other cook book. The medical department is of great value, and there are numerous recipes for the toilet. In fact, no cook book of to-day contains so much reliable and useful information, all written in a conversational manner, combined with simplicity, brevity and accuracy, while the large type and broad pages render the book superior in style and finish to all others.

We will give a copy of this book to any one who will send us six yearly subscriptions for the WEEKLY BULLETIN, or three yearly subscriptions for the EVENING BULLETIN. The WEEKLY BULLETIN is $1.50 a year, and the EVENING BULLETIN is $3 a year.

The cash must accompany all orders.

A Boy's Essay on Breath.

Breath is made of air, writes a Kentucky school boy. If it wasn't for our breath we would die when we slept. Our breath keeps the life going. Boys that stay in a room all day should not breathe. They should wait until they get out doors. Boys in a room make carbonic acid. Carbonic acid is poison than mad dogs. A heap of soldiers was in a black hole in India, and a carbonic acid got in that black hole and killed nearly every one afore morning. Girls kill the breath with the corsets that squeezes the diaphragm. Girls can't run or holler like boys because their diaphragm is squeezed too much.—Medical Brief.

A Tribute to the Memory of the Late G. W. Bolinger.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Him that doeth all things well to call from our midst our beloved brother, who had been a good and faithful member of our order for many years;

Resolved, That while we extend to his memory and friends our gratitude, we suffer the loss of a good and faithful member, who taught the world the manliness of sobriety.

By it also resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon our minutes and a copy sent the family of the deceased and a copy furnished the DAILY BULLETIN for publication.

Cincinnati Tobacco Market.

(Wednesday.)

The offerings at auction to-day were 686 hds. The offerings were of good size, and there was a firm, active market. For old good and fine leaf there was a spirited demand, these goods being sought after and sold at full and satisfactory prices. Color, trash, lugs and medium were active request at full figures. The commoner grades held steady and sold very well. Medium to good leaf (new) shows the same activity noted heretofore, and is selling at full prices, as are all clean samples of trash and lugs with color. Common trash, lugs and nondescripts were in only fair demand, and prices remain low.

The committee reported claims and accounts amounting to $1,441.69 for the month, all of which were allowed except an item of $612.69 for internal improvements.

On motion of Mr. Fitzgerald this was referred to the committee, with the Mayor added, for investigation. Mr. Fitzgerald wanted to find out whether the street hands were paid for the time they were used in packing Democratic conventions.

The Mayor reported $16 collected on dog tax during the month. This makes a total of 255 dogs on which the tax has been paid.

The committee reported a full settlement with Marshal Heflin for delinquent taxes for years of 1887, 1888 and 1889. The balance due, $258.35 was turned over to the City Clerk.

The Internal Improvement Committee was authorized to advertise for bids for improving Market street space.

The Committee on Laws and Ordinances was authorized to prepare an ordinance regulating the stacking of lumber in city limits.

The question of investing the Greenwood fund was continued in hands of the committee.

The coffee house license of L. Roser was transferred to George Eitel.

The following permits were granted: Q. A. Means and Son and A. Sorries; to erect a frame building on Second street between Limestone and Market streets.

Hecuba Sudden; to erect a one-story addition to her residence on Front street, between Lexington and Walnut.

G. N. Crawford; to erect a frame building on the Nelson lot on west side of Lee street.

R. H. Newell; to erect a two-story frame residence on south side of Third street, between Limestone and Plum.

John C. Adamson; to erect a frame dwelling on south side of Second street, west of Shultz.

Mr. Fitzgerald introduced an ordinance increasing the coffee house license to $500 a year after Jan. 1st, 1892. The ordinance was received, but a motion to suspend the rules and place it on its passage was lost. It goes over till next meeting.

President Cox stated that parties living in Chester had complained to him and claimed that some of the Deputy Marshals had hired certain individuals to drive cows down into the city limits, and that then the officers would impound the animals and compel the owners to pay the cost. The parties claimed they could prove that a negro drove their cows down into the city a few days ago. Mr. Cox added that Deputy Marshal Stockdale informed him that the cows were found in the city limits and that he (the Deputy) had then hired parties to help him drive the animals to the pound. Mr. Cox thought the matter demanded an investigation, and it was referred to a committee for that purpose.

Mr. Fitzgerald stated that some pups were stolen not long ago from Mr. M. E. McKellup, and that the names of some of the Deputy Marshals were connected with charge. He thought that it ought to be investigated also and the matter was referred to same committee.

On motion of Mr. Fitzgerald the Committee on Propositions was authorized to confer with the Electric Company and report the cost of sixteen or more arc lights for illuminating the principal streets.

The Assessor's books were returned and received, together with the report of the Board of Equalization. Thursday night, May 28, was fixed as the date of meeting to hear complaints if any, against the action of the Board. The clerk was directed to publish the usual notice of said meeting in all the city papers. Council then adjourned.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Here and There.

Miss Anna Morgan left yesterday morning to visit her uncle, Mr. B. Whiteman Wood, of Louisville.

Mr. Jas. C. Wilson and son, of Louisville arrived last evening on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Wilson.

Miss Lula Jeffries, of Phenix, Arizona, and Miss Mae Marshall, of Lewisburg, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Means.

Railroad News.

It is again claimed that Russell, opposite Ironton, will be the eastern terminus of the Cincinnati Division of the C. and O., that a foundry and repair shops are to be erected at a cost of $65,000, and that the little town is on the eve of a great boom.

How much or how little steel ties will be used in the railroad of the future is a very interesting question, says the Pittsburg Post. It would seem that it is only a question of time until they come into general use.

River News.

Mr. Tom Nolin, steward on the Portsmouth packet Louis A. Sherley, is spending a few days in town with relatives.

The sand bars have made their appearance and are growing larger every day.

The Congo was finally gotten off the shoals at Letart. She will probably take the Sherley's place in the Portsmouth trade, temporarily.

The Coahoma is still grounded at Letart. The Telegraph for Pomeroy and Andes for Pittsburg are due up to-night. Due down: Hudson this evening and Bonanza to-night.

Smith's Bride.

Says the Louisville Post: "W. H. Smith, of Maysville, and Miss Lucy Johnson, both colored, were married at the Fifth street colored Baptist Church May 6th, at noon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John H. Frank, and the wedding was one of the largest of its kind that ever occurred in Louisville.

"The bride came into quite a fortune lately. She was the servant in Mr. Oscar Fenley's family, and was badly hurt on the Old Colony Railroad near Quincy, the wreck which ended so disastrously for the Louisville people. She received $10,000 from the railroad company for her injuries."

Personally Conducted.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, through its personally conducted system, presents four tours for the season of 1891, by special vestibule train with dining and observation cars attached, embracing White Sulphur Springs, Natural Bridge, Luray Caverns, Richmond and Old Point Comfort on the sea. Each party limited to 100 persons. Tickets cover all necessary expenses. Daylight runs through the magnificent scenery of the Virginias. Nights spent at famous mountain resorts. Every detail looked after by W. H. Greer, General Traveling Agent, who will conduct these tours for the company. The luxury of sight-seeing without one disturbing element. For rates, dates, etc., address H. W. Fuller, General Passenger Agent, Cincinnati, O.

Peculiar Effect of a Railroad Shock.

Chauncey Depew says: "Railroad shock is the most peculiar injury imaginable. In a recent accident a man in a Wagner car was asked if he had injured. 'No,' he replied; 'and a peculiar thing about it is that of four dozen eggs I had in a basket not one was cracked.' A little later a mutual friend called and said the man had received a shock in the accident that prevented his collecting his thoughts or sleeping. I related the egg incident, but that did not matter. He gave certificates from two prominent New York physicians stating the truth of his claim. I gave him a check for $7,500. The man grumbled because it was not enough to yield him a life income. But he took the check, went South, returned in three weeks and resumed business, and has not had a sick day since."

RAILROAD ACCIDENT

Two Passenger Trains Collide on the Panhandle.

ONE MAN INSTANTLY KILLED.

Two Postal Clerks and an Express Messenger Badly Injured—None of the Passengers Were Hurt—An Accident on the Chicago Belt Line.

PITTSBURG, May 8.—Passenger trains No. 7 westbound and No. 10 eastbound, on the Panhandle road collided at Tuscarawas at 11 o'clock yesterday. Daniel Longnecker, baggage-master of Columbus, O., was instantly killed. C. D. Rodgers and Otto Miller, postal clerks, of Indianapolis, and G. F. Marvin, express messenger, were badly injured, being cut about the head and limbs. Their bodies are also contused. Both engineers and firemen of the trains jumped and escaped injury.

At Tuscarawas, a small way station, is the west end of the double track on the Panhandle railroad. There is also a drop to the westward in the grade. Mail train No. 7, westbound, was going down this grade at an ordinary rate of speed, but was unable to stop before running out onto the single track. It is the rule for No. 7 to wait at the end of the double track until No. 10 passes. Before No. 7 could back out of the way, No. 10 came up at full speed and crashed in No. 7. Both locomotives, two cars on the mail and one car on No. 10 were totally wrecked.

The killed and injured were quickly rescued and sent to Dennison, where the wounds of the latter were dressed, and a few hours later were sent to their homes on the fast line, in charge of the company surgeons. Longnecker's remains were placed in a casket and forwarded to his home in Columbus on a later train.

Accident on the Chicago Belt Line.

CHICAGO, May 8.—Damage amounting $100,000 was caused by a peculiar accident on the Western Indiana Belt line, near the West Lake street crossing at about noon yesterday. Before the Chicago and Northwestern yards are reached by the Belt line there is a heavy grade, and in descending this grade the wheels of a locomotive spread, causing the engine to leave the rails. The engineer and fireman had barely time to jump when the locomotive fell partially through the trestle work. Two tank cars of oil in the train behind piled on top of it. The oil was ignited by the coal in the firebox, and cars, locomotive and much of the trestle work were destroyed.

O'MALLEY'S STATEMENT.

The Notorious Detective Gives a History of a Portion of His Life.

NEW ORLEANS, May 8.—Dominick O'Malley, the notorious detective, has sent a long statement to the press in which he gives that portion of his life which dates from his arrival in New Orleans. O'Malley came here in 1878, and since that time has been employed by several prominent concerns. He gives a detailed account of his services for the state in the capacity of a detective, and reviews at length the famous Matranga-Provenzano and Hennessy cases.

He reiterates his statement that the five Italians who underwent trial for the murder of Chief Hennessy were innocent of the crime, and says that he would give his theory of the crime if he had any direct evidence at hand to substantiate it. The day will come, he believes, when he can speak positively on this point, but for the present he will maintain a strict silence, fearing that if he should speak further on the subject he would throw suspicion on certain persons who may be perfectly innocent. He states, however, that Chief Hennessy was not murdered by the members of the Mafia.

O'Malley reasserts his innocence of any connection in the Hennessy case, and says he fears no investigation. All he wants is a fair trial. He alleges that his life has been threatened and has been told that if acquitted he will be lynched. The remainder of the statement contains nothing new.

FOUR LIVES LOST.

Explosion in the Ocean Mine Near Clarksburg, W. Va.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., May 8.—An explosion occurred at 7 o'clock yesterday morning in Ocean mine, near this city, which resulted in the death of four miners and serious injuries to several others. A fire followed the explosion, which is still burning. Those killed are: Joseph Feather, 50 years old, of Connellsville, Pa.; William Dougherty, 35, of Bridgeport; Nathan Gains, 35, of Clarksburg; Charles Welsh, 23, of Clarksburg.

The body of the last named victim was the only one recovered. It was found some distance from the pit with the clothes entirely burned off. The from heat the burning mine caused asuspension of the search for the other bodies.

Under Consideration.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 8.—In the house in reply to the question as to whether it was the intention of the government to allow free entry into Canada of cattle from the United States for the purpose of being slaughtered at Three Rivers and other places, Sir John Macdonald says that the matter is under his consideration.

The Belgian Strikers.

PARIS, May 8.—In an interview a prominent member of the council of the Belgian workmen's organizations, denied that the strikers of Belgium are being assisted in the present struggle by funds sent to them from England and the United States. The Belgian strikers, he said, had ample funds with which to carry on the fight to the bitter end.

Caterpillars Injuring Fruit Trees.

WEST FORK, Ind., May 8.—The prospect for an immense fruit crop is somewhat blighted by the appearance of caterpillars in such numbers as to literally cover the trees. Whole orchards have been stripped of bloom and foliage.

ON THE INCREASE.

The Reciprocity Idea in Central and South America.

NEW YORK, May 8.—A Washington dispatch says that the friends of reciprocity are not allowing the idea to smoulder.

The next arrangements which will be announced after that with Spain regarding Cuba will, it is believed, be with the republic of San Domingo and the United States of Venezuela. The representative of the Dominican republic, Senor Galvan, who negotiated the reciprocity treaty of 1884, is here, and has had several conferences with Secretary Blaine.

The little black republic is anxious to promote friendly relations with this country and Senor Galvan seems willing to offer very favorable terms. The entire trade of San Domingo is not of supreme importance, but the United States could probably easily obtain more than her present share under a favorable reciprocity agreement.

There has been some domestic difficulties in Venezuela which have made progress a little slow in the negotiations of an arrangement with that country, but the people at the state department are confident that an arrangement will soon be well under way. The president of the republic has communicated to the congress the propositions of Secretary Blaine and there is a wholesome fear of having the duty imposed upon coffee at the beginning of next year if no agreement is made in the meantime.

Our imports on coffee from Venezuela during the fiscal year 1890 reached a value of $9,062,207, making her the most formidable competitor of Brazil, from whom we purchased $45,664,127 worth.

DEMENTED WOMAN'S DEED.

She Puts Arsenic in the Coffee Pot and Poisons the Entire Family.

CATLETTSBURG, Ky., May 8.—Mrs. George Carter, who resides with her husband in Lawrence county, Ky., ten miles west of Louisa, made a desperate but unsuccessful attempt to poison her entire family with arsenic Monday night. For some time the woman has been in a very despondent mood, and her friends fear she is insane.

On the day mentioned she placed a quantity of arsenic in the coffee pot. After the family had partaken of the evening meal, all became seriously ill; medical assistance was summoned, and the woman told what she had done, adding she wanted to die, but did not wish to leave her husband and two children. One of the children is expected to die.

Swung on a Weak Gate.

PHILADELPHIA, May 8.—A gate on which John Dawson, 5 years old, and William Richmond, aged 6, were swinging at Firth & Foster's dye works, fell yesterday, killing Dawson and injuring Richmond so badly that he cannot recover.

Roasted Coffee.

NEW YORK, May 8.—A fire occurred last night in the two five-story buildings, Nos. 85 and 87 Front street, occupied by various tea and coffee firms, which caused a loss of $20,000 on the building and $5,000 on the tenants.

Forest Fires in Michigan.

ISHPEMING, Mich., May 8.—Forest fires are burning in all parts of the peninsula. At Ford river the damage is estimated at $125,000. Smaller fires are reported at many other points. A dense smoke hangs over the city.
